Come to me,
all you that are weary and are carrying
heavy burdens, and I will give you rest. Take my yoke upon
you, and learn from me; for I am gentle and humble in heart, and you will find rest for your souls. For my
yoke is easy,
and my burden is light.”

Novena Prayer to the Sacred Heart

O Divine Jesus, who said, “Ask and you shall receive, Seek and you shall find, Knock and the door shall be opened to you”.
Relying on these promises I come with confidence during this Novena to ask of you the favours I need.
With a lively faith in you, I come to ask....

(Share your petitions silently with the Sacred Heart)

From whom shall we ask, Lord Jesus, if not from You whose heart is an unfailing source of grace and merits?

Most loving Heart of my God, I believe in your personal love for me, and therefore,
O Sacred Heart of Jesus, I place all my trust in You

The Trinity teaches us we are all united. We are not islands.

The One and Triune God, dear brothers and sisters, must be manifested with deeds rather than words. God, who is the author of life, is transmitted not so much through books as through witness of life. He who, “is love” (1 Jn 4:16), reveals himself through love. Think about the good, generous, gentle people we have met; recalling their way of thinking and acting, we can have a small reflection of God-Love. And what does it mean to love? Not only to wish them well and to be good to them, but first and foremost, at the root, to welcome others, to be open to others, to make room for others, to make space to others. This is what it means to love, at the root.

To understand this better, let us think of the names of the divine Persons, which we pronounce every time we make the Sign of the Cross: each name contains the presence of the other. The Father, for example, would not be such without the Son; likewise, the Son cannot be considered alone, but always as the Son of the Father. And the Holy Spirit, in turn, is the Spirit of the Father and the Son. In short, the Trinity teaches us that one can never be without the other. We are not islands, we are in the world to live in God’s image: open, in need of others and in need of helping others. And so, let us ask ourselves this last question: in everyday life, am I too a reflection of the Trinity? Is the sign of the cross I make every day – the Father and the Son and the Holy Spirit – that Sign of the Cross we make every day, a gesture for its own sake, or does it inspire my way of speaking, of encountering, of responding, of judging, of forgiving?
