Come to me, all you that are weary and are carrying heavy burdens, and I will give you rest. Take my yoke upon you, and learn from me; for I am gentle and humble in heart, and you will find rest for your souls. For my yoke is easy, and my burden is light."

Happy Eastertide from the P.P.A. We were delighted with the celebration of the Holy Week and Easter liturgies. A very big thank you to all who participated and to those who gave much of their time and giftings both “up-front” and “behind the scenes.” The daily Masses throughout Lent were well attended, which is uplifting for the whole parish. A special thank you to Fr. Brendan for his well prepared and relevant homilies, which always leave us with something of the Word of God to reflect on as we return home. We propose dedicating some of our Sunday Masses to highlighting the important role of voluntary and public service groups in the community. Please contact Fr. Brendan or any member of the P.P.A. if you would like your group to participate. It will be a joy to honour those who serve the community so faithfully.

Please bring the gift for Trocaire as soon as you can so that we can send it off to be used.

Suffering for the Faith in Nigeria. 52,250 Nigerian Christians murdered since 2009.

According to its findings, over the past 14 years at least 52,250 Nigerian Christians have been brutally murdered at the hands of Islamist militants, more than 30,000 of whom during the eight-year presidency of former Nigerian President Muhammadu Buhari, often criticized during his tenure for not doing enough to combat growing insecurity in the country.

In the same period 18,000 Christian churches and 2,200 Christian schools were set ablaze. Approximately 34,000 moderate Muslims also died in Islamist attacks. Nigeria accounts for 89% of Christians martyred worldwide.

Evangelical zeal is the support on which proclamation is based, and heralds are somewhat like the feet of the body of Christ that is the Church. There is no proclamation without movement, without ‘going out,’ without initiative. This means there is no Christian if not on the move; no Christian if the Christian does not go out of themselves in order to set out on the journey and bear the proclamation. There is no proclamation without movement, without walking. One does not proclaim the Gospel standing still, locked in an office, at one’s desk or at one’s computer, arguing like ‘keyboard warriors’ and replacing the creativity of proclamation with copy-and-paste ideas taken from here and there. The Gospel is proclaimed by moving, by walking, by going . Pope Francis , General Audience April 12th 2023
